

Welcome to Redbean

Installation

1. Download the Redbean executable.
2. Place it in your desired directory.
3. Ensure you have the necessary permissions to execute the file.

Running your first page

1. Create a 'page.lua' file in the same directory.
2. Run the executable: `./redbean --port 8080`
3. Open your browser at `http://localhost:8080`

Customization

Redbean uses Lua for logic and SQLite for data persistence. You can modify the `page.lua` file to change content, handle forms, or query the database directly.

Deployment

Since Redbean is a single file, you can ship it directly to your clients or host it on any server with minimal overhead.
